Informit Families & Society Collection

The Informit Families & Society Collection provides up-to-date research on family wellbeing and the place of families in society. The database features evidence-based information and resources for lecturers, students, researchers and professionals in the child, family and community welfare sectors. This multi-disciplinary collection covers a wide range of subjects including ageing, child development and psychology, family dynamics and the many social problems relating to families. This Collection offers fresh perspectives and content about 21st-century families.

Features and Benefits

Over 20,000 records from more than 50 resources with full text articles dating back to 1976
The largest 100% full text database of Australian family-related research available online
New articles added daily
A broad range of titles not widely available elsewhere
Content from peak bodies, government agencies and specialist institutions that actively analyse, regulate and report on societal issues affecting Australian families today

Search Platform Features

Personalised—track content of interest to you with email alerts, RSS and search history tools
Discoverable—find Informit content fast via global discovery services including Google Scholar, Trove, OCLC WorldCat, Ex Libris Primo, ProQuest Summon Service and EBSCO Discovery Service
Integrated—link to Informit content from your library catalogue
Measurable—monitor COUNTER compliant usage statistics using Informit Admin
Customisable—manage display options, linking preferences and authentication options with Informit Admin

Start searching
https://www.informit.org

Request a quote or free trial
https://www.informit.org/trial-and-quote

Contact Informit
Australia and New Zealand
T +61 3 9925 8210
E support.informit@rmit.edu.au
Informit Families & Society Collection

The Informit Families & Society Collection brings together the most authoritative family-related research available to support researchers, policy makers and community organisations.

Focusing on the field of child and family studies, the Informit Families & Society Collection provides reputable coverage of ideas and concepts relating to a wide range of research contexts. The Collection provides an unrivalled source of informed and balanced perspectives on family issues in an ever-changing society.

---

Key subjects

» Ageing
» Child care
» Child development and psychology
» Family dynamics and relationships
» Family economics
» Family law
» Parenting and parent education
» Social services
» Welfare
» Women

---

Key titles

» Australian Journal of Social Issues
» Developing Practice: The Child Youth and Family Work Journal
» Family Matters
» Parity
» Youth Studies Australia

---

Case study

Title: When relationships need repair
Personal Author: Keast, Jackie; Egan, Natasha

Abstract: Specialised mediation and counselling services may help resolve conflict between older people, families and aged care staff in a way that preserves relationships. Jackie Keast and Natasha Egan explore how these services are taking off for seniors across Australia.

---

About Informit

Informit provides access to unique specialist content through its collection of over 100 databases. These cover a wide range of subjects, including health, engineering, business, education, law, humanities and social sciences. Informit’s products—Collections and Media—contain content sourced from publishers, associations and peak professional bodies as well as international authors.

From its head office in Melbourne, Australia, Informit works with library consortia, associations and agents to help users advance their research through access to peer-reviewed and specialist journals, monographs, reports, conference papers and bibliographic indexes, collated with a focus on regional perspectives and otherwise hard-to-find research.

Informit products provide access to authoritative research from Australia, New Zealand, Asia-Pacific and around the world.